

Life with Purpose

For everyone within the sound of my voice
I hope you know that you have a choice
To worship the Savior
And invite Him in
Giving Him complete control
To change you within

By purging and cleansing
You from head to toe
Removing all stumbling blocks
That stunts your growth

Now that you have surrendered
Your roots are now free
Your limbs are strong and bountiful
Bearing many fruit on your tree

To feed the souls
Of those God put in your path
Who need answers to the questions
They've been too afraid to ask

Like how do I pray?
How do I serve?
Why does Jesus give us sinners' unconditional love?
Why must I confess?
Why must I praise?
What does it mean to be saved?

The door is now open
So, speak His word
Testify and shed some light
On the mighty and wondrous miracles
Of our heavenly father above

See, we all have been chosen
To set the captives free
Open the eyes of the blind
So they can see
And understand
That Jesus is the way, the truth, and the life
To God the father, his promises, and eternal life
